Dr A BARRETT having returned to Bangor in improved health will resume the practice of his profession in all its branches at his old office over H M Kent's Store No 3 Main Street.

The VULCANIZED RUBBER BASE is now superseding all other substances for setting Artificial Teeth and has been thoroughly tested and approved by the best dentists. Dr B having had six months experience in putting up Teeth on the Vulcanized Base and having examined many sets that had been worn from two to three years, and which were as perfect in every respect as when first made, has the utmost confidence in recommending this method as superior to all previous modes in comfort and usefulness to the wearer, as well as being more cleanly and desirable.

Dr Barrett having procured one of the most approved steam vulcanizers, is prepared to put up work in this style for those who may desire.

My son has been under Dr Lighthill's care for about two weeks, and has been effectually cured of discharge or running of matter from his ear which troubled him for four years. The discharge which was of an offensive smell yielded to Dr Lighthill's effective treatment after a few applications.
NORRIS F BRAGG

Doctor Lighthill—Dear Sir. Permit me to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure you have performed upon my little girl for deafness. It was impossible to teach her how to speak as she could not hear anything at all; hence she could only say the one word "mamma", which she learned to say before she lost her hearing two years ago. Now, after your invaluable services have been rendered to her, and have so happily and successfully resulted she can hear and speak in fact can repeat any thing I may want her to say. Not being able to recompense you according to your deserts, I feel it the more to be my duty to make the above known.— Wishing you the happiness and success you so richly merit I sign myself Yours very gratefully
Mrs J D GRAFFAM
Bangor Nov 2 1861

The public will readily perceive that had this child not been attended to in time she would have become a deaf mute as prognostication in her case would have deemed a cure impossible. Hence the importance of attending to such cases as soon as possible.—Bangor Times Nov 4 1861

This is to certify that Dr Lighthill have successfully removed a film from my eye, which has troubled me for about eighteen months. The operation was but little painful and entirely to my satisfaction.

Capt EDWARD SMITH
Orrington, Me Nov , 1861

I have been troubled with Chronic Catarrh for about five years, was subjected to a great deal of headache and tightness across, and pressure over my eyes, discharge from my head which would drop into my throat. I consulted and tried the treatment of many physicians, but have never received any benefit until now, after being but two weeks under Dr Lighthill's treatment I feel very much relieved—in fact find no, not even trace of my disease, and if it only continues as I now feel I have no reason to complain but would consider myself well and satisfied. I have perfect confidence in Dr Lighthill's treatment, and recommend the afflicted with Catarrh to try his treatment.
GEORGE YOUNG
Bangor, Nov 2, 1861

Editor of the Bangor Times
Mr Editor—Dear Sir. It is about four weeks since I sent you a communication saying that Drs Lighthill had successfully operated upon my wife's eye for Cataract, restoring her to sight after she had been blind more than a year. Drs Lighthill at the same time and at my house also operated upon Miss Mary Ann Kimball a young lady, residing in my family for cross eyes with perfect success.— I am very happy to be able to state that both patients have entirely recovered from the effects of the operations and the objects aimed at have been gained, to the great satisfaction of myself, wife, family and friends. For the kind attention and conscientious care bestowed upon my wife and Miss Kimball by the Doctors Lighthill we shall ever feel grateful and would recommend these gentlemen to all such who [illegible] sphere of their eminent usefulness, and we wish them all the success in life they so richly merit.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL OPERATION UPON THE EYE. Mrs Amelia F R [illegible] residing on Columbia st. in this city was to-day operated upon by Dr Lighthill for cleft-(strabismus), [illegible] (cross eyes) with the very best of success. This operation is one of the most delicate in ophthalmic surgery, as by it two defects were at once removed.
Bangor Times, Nov 4th

CURE OF CATARRH. I have been afflicted with Catarrh in the worst form for six years—had constant discharges and dropping of mucus down my throat, had severe headache and, in fact all the symptoms which Catarrh produces. I am now two weeks under the care of Dr Lighthill and have thus far recovered my health as to be able to recommend him to others likewise afflicted.
GEORGE R. YOUNG, North Newburgh, Me
Bangor, Oct 21, 1861

SUCCESS OF DR LIGHTHILL. We are pleased to notice the success of Dr Lighthill during his stay thus far in the city. The following remarkable case is thus attested:

To the afflicted with Deafness
I have this day been made almost a new man by an operation by Dr Lighthill which restored to me my hearing, of which I have been deprived for nearly 17 years. My deafness came on gradually. I am 54 years of age, and reside in Winterport.
JOHN J THOMPSON
Bangor Sept 25 1861
Bangor Times, Sept 27th, 1861

CATARRH

This is to certify that I was afflicted with Catarrh in the worst form. I had a constant discharge of mucous from my head into my throat. Hardened pieces of mucous would come from my throat and nostrils, after a severe effort to raise them which almost took away my strength. I had a severe pain on top of my head and above my nose; my food would not digest easy. In fact, I was completely run down. Physicians would call my disease incurable. Last Spring, while Dr Lighthill was at Portland, by the persuasion of my friends, I placed myself under his care, and after two months treatment was entirely cured and have remained well up to this.
WM E. JAMES.
Portland, September 28th, 1861

DR. LIGHTHILL.—The Doctor, who has been eminently successful in treating diseases of the Eye and Ear, as his patients are ready to testify, is still stopping at the Bangor House and will remain in the city a short time longer. Among the many of his extraordinary cures, the Doctor has a certificate from Mr Joseph Bishop of Leeds, Me., who is 89 years of age and has been deaf for thirty years.—He was entirely restored to his hearing after being under the Doctor's treatment for a short time and says he feels "like a young man again." Those afflicted will be the gainers by calling on Dr Lighthill.—Bangor Whig, Oct 30, 1861

DR. LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir. In showing you a mother's gratitude for the cure you have effected upon my daughter, I can in no way do better justice to yourself, or confer a greater benefit upon the similarly afflicted, than by annexing with these my heartfelt thanks—a short description of my daughter's condition before she was put under our care. My daughter, Clarinda B Mason, who is fifteen years of age, has been afflicted for a number of years, with all the symptoms and disagreeable consequences of Catarrh, with an excessive discharge [illegible] matter, from her [illegible] the discharge not only made [illegible] so offensive that it was impossible for any one but a tender mother to be near her. These periods were coming on once or twice a week sometimes even oftener. I am happy to inform you that I now consider my daughter entirely well. I cannot too strongly recommend others not to despair of relief from Catarrh because their physicians did not succeed in curing them or pronounced their cases incurable, for truly such was exactly the case with my daughter and it was only after repeated recommendations from my friends that I was persuaded to place her under your care. Very respectfully yours,

Whig & Courier.

Some years ago, when Chicago was in its infancy a stranger took up his quarters at the principal hotel, and inscribed his name on the register as Mr J—— of St Louis. For several days he remained there transacting the business which had brought him to the place and from his exceedingly plain dress, manners, and general appearance, attracted but little attention.

Soon Mr J—— was suddenly seized with illness during which he was sadly neglected by the hotel, and the servants taking their tone from the master of the house, left him to shift for himself as he best could. Thus matters went on till one morning he was found past praying for. His papers were then examined, that the sad intelligence might be communicated to his friends, when to the surprise of all, he was found to be one of the wealthiest men in the Western country.

Arrangements were accordingly made for the funeral, but before the services were performed the subject came to life again, having been a victim to catalepsy instead of the grim K[illegible] Terrors. All were overjoyed at the escape from so fearful a fate, and from that time were profuse in their expressions of solicitude. [illegible] however, if we may judge by documentary evidence, rather than by any personal regard.

At length some one ventured to ask how things appeared to him in his trance, to which he replied thus:

I thought I had come to the river of death where I met an angel who handed me a jewel to serve as a pass to the other side. On giving this to the ferryman, I received from him a booth [illegible] we carried me forward on their stage to our journey. Going on thus for several stages, receiving at the termination of each a ticket for the succeeding one I at last reached the gate of the heavenly city. There I found St Peter, who opened the door at my summons.

"Good morning, St Peter," said I.
"Who are you, sir?" said he turning over the leaves of a huge ledger.
"My name is J——."
"Very good, sir, where did you live down below?"
"I lived at St Louis in the State of Missouri."
"Very well sir, and where did you die?"
"I died at Chicago in Illinois."
"Chicago?" said he shaking his head, there's no such place, sir."
"I beg your pardon, St Peter but have you a map of the United States here?"
"Yes, sir."
"Allow me to look at it."
"Certainly, sir."
With that he handed down a splendid atlas, and I pointed out Chicago on the map.
"All right sir, said he, after a moment's pause, it's there, sure enough, so walk in sir, but I'll be blest if you ain't the first man that has ever come here from that place."

Thus ended Mr J——'s account of his transition state, and no more questions were asked.

The Duke of Brissac adopted a strange but successful device in putting down duelling in his regiment. He pretended to countenance the practice, but requested that his officers, before fighting which they did almost every day, would report the circumstances to him. Next day two more of them [illegible] the duke inquired the cause of the quarrel. As usual, it was a mere matter of foolish contradiction.

"Certainly it is worth while fighting for such a matter," observed the duke. And he gave them their congé.

The next morning at parade, the two officers were present.

"What!" said the duke, "the affair had no results then?"

"Excuse me colonel," said one holding up his arm in a scarf, "I have received a sword wound."

"Pooh! a scratch. And a question of etiquette too! You must fight it out."

So the officers had to fight again, and one of them received a wound that kept him confined three weeks to his bed. In the interval, several others applied for permission to fight, but the duke would not grant it. They must wait, he said, till the first quarrel was settled. One day he met the wounded officer taking a fresh air, and leaning on the arm of a friend.

"What!" he said, "on foot again? Capital! Tomorrow you can fight again, and let this affair be finished with!"

The two officers met again, and both fell dead. The duke then summoned before him those who had requested permission to fight and said he would grant them their wish, but it must be only two at a time and in each case he was determined to see the quarrel settled. In the case of the one that had just occurred [illegible] no more requests for permission to fight.

A country gentleman once went to town on business, and confided a considerable sum of money to the care of a particular friend. Having settled his affairs he went to his friend for the money confided to his keeping; the latter was so base as to express surprise, and to deny having received any.

Our poor friend from the country was almost in despair, but went and told his case to a magistrate of great ability.

The magistrate asked if he had taken any receipt or if there had been any witness to the transaction.

He answered, that as he had no suspicion of the man he believed to be his friend he had not taken any receipt, and that the only witness was the knave's own wife.

After a little reflection the magistrate told him to step into an inner room, and he then sent for the man who had played so treacherous a part.

"I understand that you have received as a deposit a large sum of money and that you refuse to restore it to its right owner."

The man's only answer was a denial of the accusation.

"Well," said the magistrate, "I suppose you are innocent, but in order to convince me of it, write to your wife (who is said to have been a witness to the transaction) the order I am about to dictate to you."

"My beloved wife,—I beg of you to give the bearer of this letter the sum which I told you of [illegible] night ago, which you saw Mr —— confide to my care. I am about to [illegible]"

A [illegible] letter was written [illegible] examined [illegible] the magistrate to see that it contained the preceding words, and no others. It was then [illegible] a very short time the messenger returned with the sum of money.

In Peace or War, on land or sea,
Our flag, the aegis of the free,
Bright emblem of Columbia's glory!
Shall tell to coming years the story,
How, stout of heart, and strong of hand,
The patriots of our native land
Bore it, the nation's hope and life,
On tented field, 'mid fearful strife,
Still on! till through the sulphurous cloud
It broke in triumph. Treason's shroud!

The Solution of the Negro Question.

There is no fact of which we are better satisfied than that nine-tenths of the people of the loyal States are this day in favor of using the power of the slaves against the rebellion instead of longer permitting that power to be used for sustaining rebellion. A large portion of the people who have hitherto opposed every advance towards abolition, and who would not now answer to the name of abolitionists, are yet convinced that military necessity demands practical emancipation as fast and as far as our armies advance. We never expect to see this rebellion suppressed until this measure is adopted as the outspoken policy of the government, and until the rebels are made to feel that it is so.—The descent which has just been made by a federal army upon one of the most populous negro districts in South Carolina, will, if properly sustained and followed up, be by far the most alarming movement to the rebels which has yet been made. If conducted in the spirit and policy with which it ought to be conducted, it will spread consternation throughout the whole South. If the slaves of rebels are "confiscated" as fast as they come in, the mere loss of property to the traitors will be so enormous as to make the whole slave interest wish the leaders of rebellion had never been born; while the vital strength of the rebel armies will be very greatly diminished by the loss of their "home brigades" of laborers.

Our government has in fact adopted the emancipation policy,—and the very democratic leaders who are daily denouncing the "abolitionism" of Republicans, are giving their own assent to that policy. They do not call it abolition. John Cochrane of New York, until lately one of the strongest pro-slavery democrats in the North, objects to "emancipating slaves by proclamation, or otherwise, leaving them unsubjected to no control," or "turning them loose" as it is frequently expressed, but considers that "to receive them within our military lines, to be retained under military supervision while the war lasts, and with the power in the Government to accompany their liberation, at the end of the war, with measures of migration, is a different thing."

When John Cochrane and men of his stamp reason in this way, the difference between him and avowed emancipationists is not worth talking about. No slave of a rebel master will be sent back or paid for. The thing sought for will be accomplished. The rebellion will be crushed by practical emancipation, however it may be accomplished, and in no other way. The government in its instructions to Gen. Sherman, commanding the South Carolina expedition, has really announced that policy, in relation to every slave who may desire and seek for his liberty. If the negroes are entirely passive, Gen. Sherman will probably not interfere with their condition. He could scarcely appeal to them to rise against their masters, or offer them freedom as an inducement to come into our camps. His instructions on this subject, issued by Secretary Cameron, state that he is to "avail himself of the services of any persons, whether fugitives from labor or not, who may offer them to the National Government;" assuring the loyal masters "that Congress will provide just compensation to them for the loss of the services of the persons so employed." This is sufficient authority for the substantial confiscation of the slaves of rebels. One more step should be taken, and that is to declare that policy openly—to confiscate every negro belonging to a traitor.—The country will willingly pay for all slaves belonging to men who can prove themselves to have been loyal to the government throughout the rebellion. The amount thus drawn from the treasury would not be ruinous.

The Fortress Monroe correspondent of the New York Herald says he knows as a fact that Jeff Davis has left Richmond for Charleston, taking with him several of his [illegible].

Robert Elliot's Reception at Home.

[If the statements in the following communication are true, they show a state of sentiment in Freedom village which requires the attention of the authorities; and if Robert Elliot sanctions such demonstrations on the part of his followers he should be restored at once to his safe quarters in Fort Warren, from which he was released by a simple act of clemency. We have the name of the person who writes the communication, but he is personally unknown to us. If the circumstances admit of a better interpretation than the one given, we should be glad to have it.]

Editor of Whig & Courier:

In justice to the few who have, for years, stood as the representatives of civilization in Freedom, I trust you will give place in your paper to the following brief sketch of the scene in that village on the return of Robert Elliot from Fort Warren on Friday evening last:

In anticipation of his arrival, every window in those houses whose inmates had, up to the time of his arrest, openly avowed their hostility to the government, and their sympathy with traitors displayed numerous lighted tallow candles. At an early hour in the evening, a gang of from forty to fifty men, armed with guns and revolvers had assembled to welcome back their chief. He came at about 9 o'clock, and was greeted with yells of triumph and with curses upon the "Black Republicans" and Union men. They then began a course of tumult, insolence and outrage towards the Union men in the village, which lasted till near morning. The doors of the houses of the Unionists were fastened by the inmates, and those who have openly denounced the Southern traitors and their sympathisers were kept within.

A Union man from Thorndike by the name of Wing, who has had the misfortune to lose one of his hands, came through the village at about 10 o'clock, on his way home from Belfast, when he was assailed by the mob, who accused him of being a "d—d Black Republican," and on his assuring them that he was a Union man and should be while he breathed, they followed him through the street, howling and firing guns around him, and at last some one in the crowd fired a revolver at him several times, two of the balls passing through his hat, and one taking effect over his forehead, leaving the skull bare for two inches in length. The concussion rendered him senseless for a time; but on recovering his consciousness he found his pursuers still around him, when he went to the door of a public house kept by Mr. Wm. Murray—obnoxious to the mob, from his Union sentiments alone—and tried to get in, but the door was fastened and the mob being at his heels, hurling stones at the house, firing guns, cursing Union men, and making night hideous generally, no one inside dared, in the face of the threats, curses and storm of missels thrown against the house, to open the door and let in the wounded man, who was covered with blood from the wound he had received. At last Wing succeeded in getting away with his life, and reached his home, where he is still suffering from the effects of his wound.

They amused themselves by hurling rocks against the house of Mr. Murray, yelling and firing guns around his and the residence of Dr Billings, till long after midnight. All this may, and to many, no doubt, must seem incredible, but it is, nevertheless, true.

Yours, &c., UNIONIST.

THE UNION VICTORY IN KENTUCKY. The victory reported by telegraph yesterday as having been achieved by General Nelson's brigade in Kentucky was at Pikeville, in Pike (not Pitts) county. The place is not laid down in the older maps, but may be found on Lloyd's Map of the Southern States. It is the extreme eastern county of Kentucky, and Pikeville is ten or fifteen miles from the Virginia line. If the first accounts are confirmed, we have gained a victory which fully offsets the defeat at Ball's Bluff, in the direct injury inflicted upon the enemy; and in its effects will prove far more disastrous to the rebel cause than any reverse has yet been to ours. The overthrow of the rebels there relieves Gen. Rosecrans from all danger of attacks in the rear. But the great value of the victory consists in opening the route of the the Union armies into East Tennessee, which lies just below.

The Cabinet in Earnest.

A gentleman of this State, writing from Washington, says that he is now "thoroughly satisfied that the Administration is in earnest in regard to the war. The labors of the Cabinet ministers have been and still are prodigious, and no one who has not peeped behind the scenes can conceive the number of obstacles they have had to overcome, the paucity and badness of the materials, and the extent of the work already accomplished.

"As for our navy, it has been re-created almost; it had run down to the heels; many of the best officers were old; not a few turned traitors; and the ships were even less available than the men. But, with a small and energetic corps for a nucleus, Mr. Welles has built up a considerable fleet, which is growing more powerful every day, and which will soon be able of itself to break the back of the rebellion. What Mr. Cameron's task has been in putting half a million of raw troops into the field you may imagine, but not describe.

"All the members of the government express themselves as resolutely determined to push on the war without interruption and without delay. There will be no going into winter quarters if it can be helped. The winter is the pleasantest season down South, and our boys mean to get into the more genial latitudes before Christmas. McClellan, it is said, wants to push on, but will do so no sooner and no more rapidly than the completest success warrants. The naval expeditions will draw off many men from the rebel army, and yet he thinks a great battle will have to be fought in Virginia.

"The policy of the administration seems to be getting more and more clear and decided, as the war goes on, in respect to slavery. It is the almost universal opinion that the war will put an end to it; many, indeed, who a short time since showed the old democratic prejudice on the subject, now say the war not only will but ought to put an end to it; and a decided change of sentiment is perceptible among the officers of the army. General [illegible]'s indignant answer to a Maryland slave claimant, that he was not a negro catcher, will be repeated by hundreds who [illegible] have had something [illegible] say. Colonel Cochrane's speech at New York, made in the presence of Secretary Cameron and General Thomas, [illegible] their approval, certainly without their dissent, touches the key-note of the controversy. Colonel Cochrane is a democrat, an [illegible] and, like every other [illegible] who has done [illegible] with me in the feeling that sounder notions are beginning to prevail.—N. Y. Post.

GEN. FREMONT. The statements made by the Chicago Tribune, (whose editors claim that they were among the earliest and strongest friends of Gen. Fremont, but who felt it their duty to make a thorough investigation into the charges against that officer) is certainly very damaging and if sustained by sufficient evidence is enough to warrant the removal. The same may be said in regard to the report of the Congressional Investigating Committee, provided it cannot be shown that the frauds in contracts were without the knowledge of Gen. Fremont himself. But justice requires that the public decision should be suspended until Fremont makes his own defence before a Court Martial or a Committee of Congress, as the case may be. If the charges shall then be sustained, no true friend of the country will complain of the action of the government.

LOSS OF THE STEAMER GOVERNOR. A letter has been received in Boston, written on board the U. S. vessel Young Rover, one of the blockading ships off Wilmington, S. C., which says:

"On the first of November instant we had a gale of wind which drifted us off our station, down off Charleston, where we came across a steamer in distress, with her colors Union down. We came up with her and found her to be the steamer 'Governor,' of Boston, with four hundred marines on board, and that she formed a part of the fleet of the Southern Expedition.—We could not take the men off, and so we ran for a sail which we saw in the distance; and having hoisted our colors Union down, the people on board saw us and made all dispatch toward us, and thence to the 'Governor,' near which she came to anchor. She then sent a boat with a line to the steamer, and managed to get all on board safely off. The 'Governor' sunk during the night."

It will be recollected that the "Governor" had a narrow escape from destruction at the great fire at East Boston on the fourth of July last.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE NAVAL EXPEDITION. The Transcript makes the following announcement: "We learn from what we consider reliable sources that the Government sent from Annapolis, on Friday last, five thousand troops, to reinforce the Naval Expedition, wherever it may have landed on the soil of Secessia."

☞ The Machias Republican says that recruiting in that county is going on well. At Machias there are three offices—Lieutenant C. P. Stone, recruiting for companies in the 6th regiment; W. C. Burgess for the Flying Artillery; and W. Morey for the 14th Infantry.

There are three offices in Eastport, all doing a good business. In Calais the business seems to be going on finely. The Advertiser says the company being recruited by Rev. S. F. Strout is filling up rapidly. Mr. George Washburne has some 70 men which he has recruited within a few past weeks. Gen. B. ☞ Thanks to Mower & Co.'s Bangor and Boston Express for papers per steamer M. Sanford.

The New York Tribune's Hatteras Inlet correspondent writes that a recent convention of loyal citizens was held in that county, which proved a bomb shell in the rebel camp. Speaking of the growing Union sentiment in that region, the Raleigh (N. C.) Standard says that "unless this movement is stopped at once by the strong arm of the Confederate States, more than half of the counties of this State will be attached to the Black Republican government before the Union Congress meets." This paper reads the Confederate Congress a severe lesson "for leaving this matter with North Carolina to attend to, when it is very evident that the State authorities will never make a move in this direction, owing to the reason that they are in the same boat with the Unionists." It appears that five of the North Carolina regiments who were enrolled for the war have been disbanded, and surrendered their arms to the State. The Confederate Government gave them neither pay, food, nor clothes, and the Standard fears that the "other regiments will do likewise unless their demands are promptly met."

About fifty letters a week are received by the President from officers of the armies of Europe, offering their services to the Government. They come from Great Britain, France, Prussia, the German States, Austria, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Sweden and Russia.—Boston Journal.

CLOTHING.

GENTLEMEN.

Having noticed for years the fortunes of Tailors doing a credit business, and having myself proved that system to be utterly wrong for the Retail Tailoring business, feel compelled to adopt the CASH SYSTEM. It is better for the customer who expects to pay for his garments, as the amount lost by bad debts, under the credit system, is divided between the patrons and the patronized, as the former receive it by paying as much as 20 per cent. less for their garments, and the latter is saved from bankruptcy. Consequently I would invite all Cash paying customers to examine the Stock of Goods now on hand, and see if the prices are not 20 per cent. less than at any other Clothing House in the city. ORDER FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE CONCERNING PASSES.

Reconnaissance in Force by Gen. Heintzleman's Division.

WASHINGTON, 12th

The Secretary of State today issued the following order —

"Circumstances which have recently occurred render it necessary to report a previous regulation that no person, whether a citizen or a foreigner will be allowed to pass the lines of the United States army in any direction, without a passport signed or countersigned by the Secretary of State. If any person shall attempt so to pass, he will be liable to arrest and detention by military authority.

(Signed,) WM. H. SEWARD, Sec'y of State."

It has been ascertained on application at the State Department today, that such passes will only be issued to persons on business for the Government of the United States.

WASHINGTON, 12th

Six regiments of Infantry, two batteries and three companies of Cavalry under command of Gen Heintzleman, made a reconnoissance today as far as Occoquan Creek, 25 miles from Washington and 18 from Alexandria.

They started at 4 o'clock in the morning, and returned late this evening. The entire force first went to Pohick Church, and there divided, a portion taking the telegraph road to Burke's station on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, and the other the road to a point on Occoquan Creek, about three miles from the Potomac.

The latter crossed Pohick and Accotink Creek and reached Occoquan without meeting any opposition.

Capt. Todd's company of Lincoln cavalry, which was with the party that went in the direction of Burke's Station, was sent out to make a reconnoissance in advance of the infantry — When several miles from the other part of the division, they were suddenly surrounded by a large party of rebels who had been concealed in the woods. Their only hope of escape therefore was in cutting their way through. A skirmish ensued, and the cavalry escaped with the loss of 3 killed, 1 wounded, 3 taken prisoners including in the last named, it is supposed, Captain Todd, who had ventured at least a quarter of a mile in advance of his company.

The object of the reconnoissance having been accomplished, General Heintzleman ordered the troops to fall back to their encampment.

Last night 400 rebel cavalry remained at Pohick Church but left before the arrival of Heintzleman's forces today.

[Dispatches to the Evening Papers.]

Authentic Account from the Fleet—The Expedition a Complete Success—Federal Steamers Osceola and Union lost in a Gale—Despatch from Jeff Davis Seized—The Town of Beaufort Deserted—Great Panic in the Interior—The Great Victory in Kentucky—400 Rebels Killed, and 2000 Taken Prisoners.

NEW YORK, 13th

The N. Y. Times' despatch says that Capt McKeever, the Assistant Adjutant General of the Department of the West, arrived in the city today, and was immediately ordered to report himself under arrest. It is understood that his arrest was based upon an order from Gen. Curtis, at St. Louis.

Col. Miles will not again be assigned a command.

The Tribune's dispatch says Sunday evening, 100 men of Col. Graham's regiment crossed over to Mathias Point, and made a thorough reconnoissance of it the next morning. The brush and houses which served as a shelter to the rebels were burned.

In Accomac county the Union men are believed to be in a majority. In Northampton, and the other county on the eastern shore of Virginia the rebels have the upper hand, over 1000 are in arms, and at one point there is a fortification. The approach of our troops, now just over the border in Maryland will soon convert the latter, as it has done the former.

The following was received at head quarters this morning,

PARIS, KY., 12th.

The courier messenger with despatches to Gen Thomas, reports two days fighting with a rebel loss of 400 killed and 2000 prisoners. The Union loss is small. Generals Williams and Howes were captured in the battle, by Gen Nelson — This is trustworthy.

Authentic Report from the Naval Expedition.

FORTRESS MONROE, 12th } via Baltimore, 13th }

The steamer Bienville has just arrived from Old Point from the great Expedition. She left Port Royal on Sunday morning, and brings cheering intelligence. Reports that the gale encountered by the fleet was very severe. The Union and Osceola went ashore, and were lost, as previously reported. The Governor foundered at sea, but the Isaac P. Smith succeeded in saving all her crew, with the exception of a few marines.

The fleet arrived at Port Royal on Monday the 4th instant. Tuesday the smaller gunboats rounded into the channel under a fire from the forts which did no damage. On Wednesday the weather prevented active operations, but on Thursday morning 7th inst., the men-of-war and the gunboats advanced to the attack.

The action commenced at 10 a. m., and was hotly carried on on both sides, and lasted about 4 hours, at the end of which time the rebels were compelled to abandon their works and beat a hasty retreat. Our loss was 8 men and one officer. The Chief Engineer of the Mohican was killed and about twenty wounded. The rebel loss is not known. Fifty two bodies were found by our men and buried.

Two forts were captured, Fort Walker on Hilton's head mounting 23 guns and Fort Beauregard on Bay Point, mounting 19 guns. The guns were of heavy calibre. The forts were both new and splendid earthworks of great strength, constructed in the highest style of military science, and pronounced by our engineers as impregnable against any assault by land forces.

The final retreat of the rebels was a perfect rout. They left everything, arms and equipments of all kinds even to officers swords and commissions, all the letters, both public and private, order books and documents of all kinds were left in their flight, and fell into our hands, affording our officers much valuable information. Among the papers was a telegram from Jeff Davis to the commander of the post informing him of the sailing of the fleet and that he knew their destination was Port Royal. The whole surrounding country was seized with a perfect panic.

The day after the fight, the Seneca and two other gunboats under the command of Lt. Ammen, proceeded up to Beaufort, and found but one white man in the town, and he was drunk. All the plantations up the river seemed to be deserted except by the negroes who were seen in great numbers and who, as the boats passed, came down to the shore with bundles in their hands as if expecting to be taken off.

After the capture of the forts, the whole army, about 16 000 men, were safely landed and established on the shore.

The forts were but little injured but the rebels could not stand the explosion of our big shells.

The force of the enemy, as stated by their papers was from three to four thousand under Gen Drayton of South Carolina. Our victory is complete, the rebels leaving everything but their lives, which they saved by running.

NEW YORK, 13th.

The Tribune has a special despatch which says that on Thursday morning the entire fleet formed in two grand lines for the fight. The Wabash led, the Bienville flanking the movement, which was in the form of a circle, first delivering broadsides into Fort Beauregard on the Northwest, and as the fleet came around, raking Fort Walker on the Southwest. Both forts responded vigorously. The Pawnee and Mohican, for the time being, having got aground were considerably damaged.

The rebel loss is supposed to be about 200 — Gen Drayton commanded at Fort Walker, and Col Elliot at Fort Beauregard.

The rebels retired across Skull Creek to a village 25 miles up the interior, where it is supposed they intend to make a stand.

The negroes had already began to pillage and destroy Beaufort.

The whole population had fled to Charleston by small steamers by inside routes.

Gen Sherman has hundreds, perhaps thousands of negro laborers.

There was a panic at Savannah and it is believed its capture would be easy. It is understood that Gen. Sherman will improve the defences of his position before making any forward movement. In the forts there was a large supply of ammunition and stores of the best description.

Commodore Dupont will immediately survey the harbor and place buoys and erect lights, and the position will be made a permanent base of operations.

Every one entered into the fight with the determination that the forts should be silenced, though it cost our entire fleet.

The fleet stood within eight hundred or one thousand feet of the forts, used five second fuses, and poured shells into them at the rate of two thousand per hour. Not a single shell sent by the rebels burst in a ship.

The Wabash was struck several times, as was most of the fleet, but every ship was in fighting condition when the rebels took to their heels.

The surgeon of Fort Walker was killed. At Charleston, next day, thirteen minute guns were fired, indicating the burial of a brigadier-general.

BALTIMORE, 13th

To the Associated Press.

From an officer arrived from Old Point we gather the following particulars.

None of our vessels were sunk. The Pawnee lost six killed and two wounded. She suffered more injury than any of the fleet but she is not disabled. A round shot went through the ward room. The Wabash had her mainmast badly injured by a round shot. The Pocahontas had one man injured. The Chief Engineer of the Mohican was killed, and an assistant badly wounded—name not known.

When our troops took possession of the forts they found a flag of truce flying on Hilton Head. The rebels had mined the works and fixed the halyards of the flag so that when it should be drawn down, the mine could be sprung. But in this they were disappointed. The halyards sprung a mine in the house used by the officers but it did very little damage and hurt no one — The magazine did not explode. A large quantity of powder was found in the forts with a large amount of English ammunition and projectiles.

Our troops had not occupied Beaufort when the steamer left, they being better engaged in strengthening their position.

Report of Brig. General Sherman.

PROCLAMATION TO THE PEOPLE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

FLAG SHIP WABASH, off Hilton Head } Port Royal Harbor, Nov 8 }

To Hon. Gideon Welles, Sec'y of the Navy

Sir—I have the honor to inform you that yesterday I attacked the batteries of the enemy on Bay Point and Hilton Head, and Forts Walker and Beauregard, and succeeded in silencing them after an engagement of four hours duration, and driving away a squadron of rebel steamers under command of Commodore Tatnall. The reconnoisance of yesterday made us satisfied with the superiority of Fort Walker, and to that I direct my special efforts, engaging it at a distance of 800, and afterwards 600 yds but the plan for the attack brought the squadron sufficiently near Fort Beauregard to receive its fire, and the ships were frequently fighting the batteries on both sides at the same time. The action was begun on my part at 26 minutes after 9 o'clock, and at 2¼ the American ensign was hoisted on the flagstaff of Fort Walker, and this morning at sunrise, on that of Fort Beauregard. The defeat of the enemy terminated in their utter route and confusion. Their quarters and encampment were abandoned without an attempt to carry away either public or private property. The ground over which they fled was strewn with the arms of private soldiers, and the officers retired in too much haste to submit to the encumbrance of their swords.

Landing the marines and a company of seamen I took possession of the deserted ground and held the forts on Hilton Head until the arrival of Gen. Sherman, to whom I had the honor to transfer their command. We have captured 48 pieces of cannon, most of them of the heaviest calibre and of the most improved design.

The bearer of these dispatches will have the honor to carry with him the captured flags and two small brass field pieces, lately belonging to the State of South Carolina, which are sent home as suitable trophies of the success of the day.

I enclose herewith a copy of the general order which is to be read in the fleet tomorrow morning at muster. A detailed account of this battle will be submitted hereafter.

I have the honor to be,
Your ob'd't servant,
S. F. DUPONT,
Flag officer commanding South Atlantic Blockading Squadron.

The bearer of these despatches will also carry with him the first American ensign raised upon the soil of South Carolina since the rebellion broke out. (Signed) S. F. DUPONT. [illegible]

FLAG SHIP WABASH, Hilton Head, } Port Royal Bay, Nov. 8, 1861 }

Gen'l Order No. 2

It is the gratifying duty of the Commander-in-Chief to make a public acknowledgment of the coolness, discipline, skill and gallantry displayed by the officers and men under his command in the capture of the batteries at Hilton Head and Bay Point, after an action of four hours duration. The Flag Officer fully sympathizes with the officers and men of his squadron in the satisfaction they must feel at seeing the ensign of the United States flying once more in the State of South Carolina, which has been the chief promoter of the wicked and unprovoked rebellion they have been called upon to suppress.

FLAG SHIP WABASH, off Hilton Head, } Port Royal, 9, }

To Hon Gideon Welles

Sir. Since writing my official despatches, I have sent gunboats to take possession of Beaufort, and to protect the inhabitants, but I regret to say that they had fled, and the town is abandoned to the negroes, who are reported to me as in a lawless condition. The light vessels which I had hoped to make use of were destroyed on the destruction of the forts by the rebels. The post offices were visited and a number of documents, letters, etc, obtained. I have covered Scull Creek and the mouth of Broad River, and have cut off the communication between Charleston and Savannah.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
S. F. DUPONT,
Flag Officer, Commanding.

The following is an extract from a private letter from one of the officers who engaged in the bombardment.

"I am sure our success will rejoice our hearts. It has been complete, and terror runs over the whole country. The negroes are wild, and are plundering their masters houses. The whites have been driving the negroes away by force, and shooting them down but they still come to the gunboats. The moment General Drayton took to his heels in the panic of the 7th, his 200 servants went directly to the Wabash. This is worthy of notice, as putting down the nonsense that the slaves were ready to fight for their masters. They surrounded Captain Ammen in crowds at Beaufort, one of them calling out in the joy of his heart, I didn't think could do it, Massa."

HEADQUARTERS Expedition Corps } Port Royal, S C, Nov 8th, 1861 }

Adjutant General U S Army, Washington,

Sir —I have the honor to report that the force under my command embarked at Annapolis, Md., at Hampton Roads, Va, on the 22d ult. In consequence of delay in the arrival of some of our transports, and unfavorable state of the weather, the fleet was unable to set out for the Southern coast until the 29th, when, under the convoy of a naval squadron in command of Commodore Dupont, and after the most mature consideration of the object of the expedition by that flag officer and myself it was agreed to reduce any works that might be found at Port Royal, S. C., and throw open the finest harbor on the coast that exists south of Hatteras. It was calculated to reach Port Royal in five days at most, but in consequence of adverse winds and a perilous storm on the day and night of the 1st of November, the fleet arrived at Port Royal bar not until the 4th, and then but in part, for it had been almost entirely dispersed by the gale, and the vessels have been straggling in up to this date.

The transport steamers Union, Belvidere, Osceola and Peerless have not arrived. Two of them are known to be lost, and it is probable all are. It is gratifying, however, to say that none of the troops transports connected with the land forces were lost, though the Winfield Scott had to sacrifice her whole cargo, and the Roanoke a portion of hers to save the lives of the regiments on board. The former will again be put to sea. The vessels connected with the naval portion of the fleet have also suffered much and some have been lost.

After a careful reconnoisance of Port Royal Bay, it was ascertained that the rebels had three field works of remarkable strength, strongly garrisoned, and covered by a fleet of three gunboats under Capt. Tatnall, late of the U. S. Navy, besides strong land forces which the rebels were concentrating from Charleston and Savannah.

The troops of the rebels were afterwards ascertained to have been commanded by Gen Drayton. One of the first and probably the strongest forts was situated on Hilton Head, and the other two on Phillips Island. It was deemed proper to first reduce the fort on Hilton Head, though to do this a greater or less fire might have to be met from the batteries on Bay Point at the same time.

Our original plan of co-operation of the land forces in this attack had to be set aside in consequence of the loss, during the voyage, of a greater portion of our means of disembarkment, together with the fact that the only point where troops should have landed was from five to six miles, measuring around the intervening shoal from the anchoring place of our transports, altogether too great a distance for a successful debarkation with our limited means. It was therefore agreed that the place should be reduced by the naval force alone.

In consequence of the shattered condition of the fleet and the delay in the arrival of vessels that were indispensable for the attack it had to be postponed until the 7th inst. I was a mere spectator of the combat, and it is not my intention to render any report of the action. I deem it an imperative duty to say that the arraying and maneuvering of our fleet against that of the rebels and their formidable land batteries, was a masterpiece of activity and professional skill that must have elicited the applause of the rebels themselves as a tactical operation. I think that too much praise cannot be awarded to the science and skill exhibited by the Flag [illegible] was a masterly one, and ought to have been seen to be fully appreciated.

After the works were reduced, I took possession of them with the land forces. The beautifully constructed work on Hilton Head was severely crippled, and many of the guns dismounted. Much slaughter had evidently been made there, many bodies having been buried in the fort, and some twenty or thirty were found some half a mile distant.

The island for many miles was found strewn with army accoutrement and baggage of rebels, which they threw away in their hasty retreat.

We have also come into possession of about 40 pieces of ordnance, most of which is of the heaviest calibre, and of the most approved modes, and a large quantity of ammunition, and camp equipage.

It is my duty to report the valuable services of Mr Boutelle, Assistant in the Coast Survey, assisting with his accurate and extensive knowledge of this country. His services are invaluable to the army as well as to the navy, and I earnestly recommend that notice be taken of this very able and scientific officer by the War Department.

I am very respectfully,
Your ob't servant,
T W SHERMAN,
Brigadier General Commanding.

After landing and taking possession of the forts, Gen Sherman issued the following proclamation:

To the people of South Carolina —In obedience to the orders of the President of these United States of America, I have landed on your shores with a small force of national troops.

The dictates of a duty which under the Constitution, I owe to a great sovereign State, and to a proud and hospitable people, among whom I have passed some of the pleasantest days of my life, prompt me to proclaim that we have come amongst you with no feelings of personal animosity, no desire to harm your citizens, destroy your property or interfere with any of your lawful rights, or your social and local institutions, beyond what the causes herein briefly alluded to may render unavoidable.

Citizens of South Carolina, the civilized world stands appalled at the course you are pursuing, appalled at the crime you are committing against your own mother—the best, the most enlightened, and heretofore the most prosperous of nations. You are in a state of active rebellion against the laws of your country, you have lawlessly seized upon the forts, arsenals and other property belonging to our common country, and within your borders. With this property you are in arms and waging a ruthless war against your constitutional Government, and thus threatening the existence of a government which you are bound by the terms of the solemn compact to live under and faithfully support. And in doing this you are not only undermining and preparing the way for totally ignoring your own political and social existance, but you are threatening the civilized world with the obvious sentiment that self government is impossible with civilized men.

Fellow citizens, I implore you to pause and reflect upon the tenor and consequences of your acts, and the awful sacrifices made by the devastation of your property, the shedding of fraternal blood in battle, the mourning and wailing of widows and orphans throughout our land are sufficient to deter you from further pursuing this unholy war. Then, ponder I beseech you, upon the ultimate, but not less certain results which its further progress must necessarily entail upon your once happy and prosperous State. Indeed can you pursue this patricidal war, and continue to imbue your hands in the loyal blood of your countrymen, your friends, your kinsmen, for no other object than to unlawfully disrupt the confederacy of a great people, a confederacy established by your own hands, in order to set, were it possible, an independent government, under which you can never live in peace, prosperity or quietude.

Carolinians, we have come among you as loyal men fully impressed with our constitutional obligations to the citizens of your State. These obligations shall be performed as far as in our power. But be not deceived. The obligations of suppressing armed combinations against the constitutional authority is paramount to all others. If in the performance of this duty other minor but important obligation should be in any way neglected, it must be attributed to the necessities of the case, because rights dependant on the laws of the State must be necessarily insubordinate to military exigencies created by insurrection and rebellion.

(Signed) W SHERMAN,
Brigadier General commanding.
Headquarters, &c., Port Royal, S C, Nov 8, 1861.

WASHINGTON, 13th

Prof Lowe made two ascensions from the Maryland shore of the Potomac river Monday night, and the atmosphere being very clear he discovered camp fires extending all along the rear of rebel batteries and for 10 or 12 miles in the direction of Manassas, indicating that the enemy is yet in considerable force in that vicinity.

The rumor of the erection of batteries at White House, appears to have no foundation in fact.

NEW YORK, 13

The Government has chartered the new and elegant steamer Constitution, of the Pacific Mail Company, to carry the main body of Butler's brigade from Boston. She will leave here on Saturday and reach Boston on Monday.

The officers and crew of the wrecked French Corvette Prony has arrived. The crew are quartered in sheds attached to the Cunard buildings at Jersey City.

NEW YORK, 13th

Secretary Seward has offered quarters at Governor's Island to the crew of the French corvette, Prony. It is not improbable that the whole crew will go to England in the Prussia.

The Chamber of Commerce has memorialized the President, asking him to sustain the decision of the Provost Court at Alexandria in its action against rebel debtors.

The Washington Correspondent of the N Y Post writes.

"General McClellan is determined to act upon the advice given him by General Scott—not to be driven into any movement by outside pressure, which his judgment does not approve. He told General Blenker a day or two since: 'I will not fight till I am ready, though all the world were at my heels.' Yet it is very certain that he expects to clear the Potomac of rebel batteries before the first of January, and the thing cannot be done without beating the enemy either in battle or strategy.

It is expected at head quarters here that Gen Butler will soon open the ball in Texas, and that the war [illegible] along the South[illegible] Washington, in Kentucky, [illegible]

Missouri, and possibly at other points. Everything depends upon the success of the expedition. If it is a failure, nothing will be done in this region before Spring."

The far seeing men of the South are looking forward to the Holidays with much anxiety, for that is the time on which the great negro insurrections have always occurred. Should this season pass in peace, they are confident that the negroes can be kept down during the war.

EFFECTS OF THE GALE ON THE FLEET

The Steamer Governor Went Down with Twenty Men on Board

WASHINGTON 13th

Colonel John Cochrane delivered an address to his regiment today, in the presence of Secretary Cameron and other distinguished gentlemen. The most important point in his argument was in relation to the treatment of slaves during the present war. He said

"We should use every means in our power to subdue the rebellion. We should take their cotton and sell it or burn it as may be best, seize their arms and munitions of war, confiscate their property, and when necessary take their lives and as their slaves were used as an element of strength against us, we should not hesitate to take them, and if necessary to place arms in their hands, that they might assist in establishing the rights of a common humanity."

This sentiment was cheered by the soldiers with unbounded applause and at the close of the address, the regiment loudly called for Secretary Cameron, who stepped forward and made a brief speech which was received with a shout of applause.

Gen Nelson, who recently won the splendid victory at Pikesville Ky., was appointed a Lieutenant in the Navy, which commission he now holds, his military command being permitted by Government.

NEW YORK, 13th

The steamship Bienville, which took part in the capture of the forts at Port Royal arrived this evening. The reports of the engagement is the same as that previously received. She brings home the wounded of our forces. When she left on Sunday noon the troops were still being landed.

The steamer McClellan has arrived.

HILTON HEAD, S C., 9th

This point is on the south of the island. The New York 79th has possession of Bay Point — The rest of the troops with all the Generals are on Hilton Head.

Five of the 20 guns of this fort were dismounted.

There were 1600 rebels on Hilton Head and 1500 on Bay Point.

We have captured 50 cannon, 600 muskets and any quantity of ammunition. The road by which the rebels escaped was covered with their muskets, knapsacks &c. We have taken at least 2500 blankets, and tents for 6000 men — The rebels guns were all 32 pounders—four being rifled—cast this year at Richmond, and the others were from Norfolk, including an English gun captured in the last war. Musket ammunition is English. The first ammunition was from Richmond.

The chief Engineer of the Susquehannah was killed. 80 dead rebels have been found and more being found, having been mostly buried in sand. Georgia troops ran first and South Carolinians last. A German artillery company who served the guns stayed till the last. Camps on both points were given up to plunder by the marines, who reaped a rich harvest.

NEW YORK 13th

The journal of the Associated Press who was on board the Vanderbilt gives the details of the battle at Port Royal, which are mainly covered by reports already received. The following are extracts of interest.

The Baltic got aground near Hatteras on the 31st ult., but got off without damage.

The gale on the 1st and 2d was very severe and the fleet completely scattered. Steamer Illinois lost a smoke stack. The rendezvous was reached at 11 o clock Sunday morning.

Steamer Winfield Scott reached the rendezvous evening of 31, with loss of masts and bow stove in. She had extremely rough time, threw overboard her three rifle cannon, all of her freight, the muskets and equipments of her 500 men—everything but rations—to keep her from sinking, and but for the labor of the soldiers in bailing, her fires would have been put out, and nothing could have saved her. Steamer Bienville went to her relief, when her Chief Engineer, his assistants, and 13 of the crew jumped aboard, the Bienville leaving the Scott to her fate. Their action nearly created a panic among the soldiers, who gave up all for lost, but the Captain of the Scott put the Chief Engineer in irons, and brought him and the recreant crew back when things went on better.

Col Clark, of the 50th Pa regiment, 500 of whom were aboard the Scott, describes the night as one of horror and the gale terrible. The vessel was a mere shell and the men were terrified by the cracking of timbers as masts went overboard, and despair seized them. When discovered she leaked badly, to which succeeded a panic when the crew attempted to escape. The Scott was taken in tow by the Vanderbilt, which had cut clear from the Great Republic in the gale.

The Steamer Governor went down went down with 20 men. The Pembina taking off all who could escape.

In the fight the Seminole had five shots in the hull, and the Wabash had her machinery disabled.

Our gunboats were sent up the creek to cut off the retreat of the rebels, but where they disappeared to is not ascertained.

The first brigade landed on the southern point Thursday evening.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

GARDINER'S Rheumatic and Neuralgia COMPOUND!

A certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Gardiner's Rheumatic & Neuralgia Compound" is the best medicine for the disease I ever saw.

CHAS. A. SMITH, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

After suffering with Rheumatism twenty years, and being confined to my bed some 1 weeks last spring, I was entirely cured by the use of one bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic & Neuralgia Compound."

NORMAN T. AYRES, 75 Franklin-st., Boston.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound. I have taken but one bottle and am entirely well.—D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No 5 Appleton Block Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured. JOHN A. MONROE, Pearl-street House, Boston, Mass.

"Gardiner's Rheumatic & Neuralgia Compound" has entirely cured me of sufferings of several years' standing. W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores and in constant pain, one bottle of your Compound cured him. J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk-st., Boston.

"Gardiner's Rheumatic & Neuralgia Compound" has entirely cured me of Neuralgia. W. C. THOMPSON, Propr your Pearl-st. House, Boston, Mass.

One half a bottle of your Compound cured me of severe attack of Neuralgia. FANNIE S. THOMPSON, Pearl-st. House, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit. ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

The undersigned hereby certify that they have used "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound" for the cure of Rheumatism and Neuralgia and found in every case immediate and permanent relief. We have full confidence in its healing qualities, and would recommend it to all who are afflicted with these harassing diseases as one of the safest and best medicines ever offered to the public.

PROF. WOOD'S [illegible] AND BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for while pleasant to the taste it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers.— It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables and those combined having powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered by debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous diseases to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, bronchitis, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, faintness, nervous irritability, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, melancholy, hypochondria, night sweats, langour, giddiness, and all that class of cases so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called female weaknesses and irregularities. Also, liver derangements or torpidity, and liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys, scalding or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, predisposition to slight colds, hacking and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say it will not only cure the debility following chills and fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system, arousing the liver to action, promoting, in fact all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a table spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits—students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again the cordial is a perfect mother's relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market Street, St. Louis Mo., and sold by all good Druggists.

Infallible Liniment!

—THE—

Great External Remedy

For Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Stiff Neck and Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Wounds, Piles, Headache, and all Rheumatic and Nervous Disorders,

FOR all of which it is a speedy and certain remedy, and never fails. This Liniment is prepared from the recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the famous bone setter and has been used in his practice for more than twenty years with the most astonishing success.

AS AN ALLEVIATOR OF PAIN it is unrivalled by any preparation before the public, of which the most skeptical may be convinced by a single trial.

This Liniment will cure rapidly and radically RHEUMATIC DISORDERS of every kind, and in thousands of cases where it has been used it has never been known to fail.

FOR NEURALGIA, it will afford immediate relief in every case however distressing.

It will relieve the worst cases of HEADACHE in three minutes and is warranted to do it.

TOOTHACHE also will it cure instantly.

FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY and GENERAL LASSITUDE arising from imprudence or excess, this Liniment is a most happy and unfailing remedy. Acting directly upon the nervous tissues, it strengthens and revivifies the system, and restores it to elasticity and vigor.

FOR PILES.—As an external remedy, we claim that it is the best known, and we challenge the world to produce an equal. Every victim of this distressing complaint should give it a trial, for it will not fail to afford immediate relief, and in a majority of cases will effect a radical cure.

QUINSY AND SORE THROAT are sometimes extremely malignant and dangerous, but a timely application of this Liniment will never fail to cure.

SPRAINS are sometimes very obstinate, and enlargement of the joints is liable to occur if neglected. The worst case may be conquered by this Liniment in two or three days.

BRUISES, CUTS, WOUNDS, SORES, ULCERS, BURNS AND SCALDS, yield readily to the wonderful healing properties of DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT, when used according to directions. Also, CHILBLAINS, FROSTED FEET, and INSECT BITES AND STINGS.

Every Horse Owner

should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

Over four hundred voluntary testimonials to the wonderful curative properties of this Liniment have been received within the last two years, and many of them from persons in the highest ranks of life.

CAUTION.

To avoid imposition, observe the signature and likeness of Dr. Stephen Sweet on every label, and also "Stephen Sweet's Infallible Liniment" blown in the glass of each bottle, without which none are genuine. RICHARDSON & CO.

AN equal and normal circulation of the blood is health. An abnormal, that is to say, an excessive or deficient circulation or stagnation of the blood, is disease. To illustrate—torpidity of the Liver is caused by stagnation of the blood in that organ; diseases of the Kidneys, inflammation of the Lungs, Diseases of the Heart, &c., by the same cause, viz: Improper Circulation; and from the same cause spring all minor forms of disease. To discover a certain cure, then, for these diseases, the first great enquiry necessarily is, What causes the blood to circulate?

For centuries it has been a matter of much study among scientific and medical men; and while many experiments have been made and much labor expended upon the enquiry, it has been left to this century, among its other wonderful increase in knowledge, to make this grand discovery, also.

Acknowledging that life is the gift of the Creator, and that "in Him we live and move and have our being," we still venture the remark, that as the planets move in their spheres and all vegetable life is governed by certain absolute laws, so animal life is traceable to a fixed cause, which remove or destroy, and death, the certain effect, follows.

Analysis of the red corpuscles of the blood show them to be compounds of iron, sulphur and phosphorus.

The air we breathe, we know to contain a very large proportion of oxygen.

Oxygen brought in contact with a metal evolves or emits electricity.

Electricity brought in contact with a muscular fiber, causes it to contract.

These facts being indisputable, we have now the solution as to the motor or motive power of the heart. The oxygen in the air we breathe coming in contact with the iron corpuscles of the blood emits electricity, which coming in contact with the heart causes it to contract, and hence the power which exists in the blood and sends it tingling through the remotest arteries. What then are the causes of Consumption, Dropsy, Palsy, Paralysis, St. Vitus' Dance, Dyspepsia, Epilepsy, Fever and Ague, &c.? A deficiency of the red corpuscles containing the iron, sulphur and phosphorus, which causes a deficiency of electricity, and consequently an abnormal circulation. The blood becomes watery, colds and bronchial complaints and prostration ensue—the sufferer becomes nervous and subject to rheumatic pains and neuralgia—complaints of the liver and kidneys set in, in short, almost every physical disease but virulent fevers may be traced to this deficiency in the blood, of the corpuscles or red globules.

[illegible] a deficiency of corpuscles, and while we do not pretend to say that we have discovered the "elixir vitæ," we do say that life can be materially prolonged by the use of the

which restores the red globules, and thus the normal circulation. [illegible] Consumptives! Friends of confinement [illegible] Sufferers from any [illegible] disease! THE ONLY PREPARATION

THAT HAS

Stood the Test of Years,

And grows more and more popular every day!

A[illegible] new and almost without number, might be given from ladies and gentlemen in all grades of society, whose united testimony none could resist, that [illegible] will restore the bald and gray, and preserve the hair of the youth to old age, in all its youthful beauty.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., Dec. 21st, 1858.

Prof. Wood—Thee wilt please accept a line to inform thee that the hair on my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease, attended with an eruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence, I have not been able to obtain stuff for caps, neither have I been able to do them up, in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs & Hodges almost the last cent I had on earth for a two dollar bottle of thy Hair Restorative, about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions and the bald spot is now covered with hair thick and black, though short. It is also coming in all over my head. Feeling confident that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently, I feel anxious to persevere in its use, and being destitute of means to purchase any more, I would ask thee if thee wouldst not be willing to send me an order on thine agents for a bottle, and receive to thyself the scripture declaration—"the reward is to those that are kind to the widow and the fatherless."

Thy friend, SUSANNAH KIRBY.

LIGONIER, Noble Co., Indiana, Feb. 5th, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana, my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance, as my more intimate acquaintances were to recognize me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but, receiving no assurance from them that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restorative, and as a result have a rich coat of very soft black hair, which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article I have recommended its use to many of my friends and acquaintances, who, I am happy to inform you, are using it with like effect.

Very respectfully, yours, A. M. LATTA,
Attorney and Counselor at Law.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small. The small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for three dollars per bottle.

TESTIMONIALS.

DR. J. K. LINCOLN. Though we have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with the gentleman, yet we have reason to believe that he is a most skillful practitioner of the dental art. At least he has made one old face in our house look young again, and has fitted, by art, a pair of jaws to masticate the food again which dame nature thought to deprive it of this privilege a little too soon. We think the work and composition of the two full sets of teeth he has inserted cannot be excelled anywhere. We regard his presence in our city as an acquisition—not only as an accomplished dentist, but as a gentleman of good public talents and of an excellent private character.
